The Dunhill The White Spot County 5220 pipe is a perfect example of English craftsmanship excellence, designed for those who seek a combination of tradition, functionality, and timeless style. Made from carefully selected briar, it features the distinctive County sandblasted finish, which gives the surface a rustic yet elegant appearance while enhancing the natural grain of the wood.

The 5220 Cherrywood model, belonging to Group 5, is characterized by its forward-leaning bowl and flat base, allowing the pipe to stand upright. Its medium size offers an excellent balance between capacity and handling, making it ideal for both everyday use and longer, more relaxed smoking sessions.

The cumberland saddle mouthpiece completes the design with elegance, providing comfort in the mouth, durability, and perfect aesthetic continuity with the bowl finish.
