Leo Borgart Nosewarmer Apple Pipe – Danish Handmade Smooth Natural Finish with Ebonite Stem and Boxwood Shank Ring

Discover a rare handmade Danish pipe crafted by the great Leo Borgart, a master pipe maker active around 30 years ago and now regarded as a significant figure in international pipe collecting. This piece represents one of his less common creations: a compact nosewarmer Apple shape, combining functional design with essential elegance.

Despite its small size, the bowl offers a surprisingly good capacity thanks to its cylindrical drilling, ensuring an even burn and a satisfying smoking experience. The classic Apple shape provides a balanced, smooth profile that is both comfortable and highly practical for everyday use.

The smooth natural finish is a true rarity for this artisan, who was best known for his contrasting stain work. This detail makes the pipe even more desirable, highlighting the quality of the briar and the purity of its lines.

The ebonite stem is complemented by a refined boxwood shank ring, adding a traditional and elegant touch to the overall design. The result is a compact pipe with strong character, ideal for both collectors and enthusiasts.

For over ten years, Al Pascià served as the exclusive worldwide distributor of Leo Borgart pipes, carefully selecting and offering his creations. Today, we are still proud to present some of his original works on our website.
