Chacom Morta Spigot: Bog Oak Pipe with Spigot System

The Chacom Morta Spigot series is a special line from the renowned French manufacturer, designed for collectors and enthusiasts seeking a refined pipe crafted from rare materials. This collection combines the traditional craftsmanship of Saint-Claude with an elegant and highly durable technical construction.

Bog oak: a rare and ancient material

The defining feature of the Morta Spigot series is the use of bog oak (fossil oak wood), a rare material formed over thousands of years in peat bogs. It is highly valued for its unique characteristics:

- exceptional rarity and strong collectible value
- dark coloration ranging from deep brown to black
- high density and structural stability
- often considered to deliver a cool, dry smoking experience

Spigot system: strength and elegance

The Spigot system refers to a reinforced pipe construction featuring metal fittings:

- metal band on the shank
- metal reinforcement on the mouthpiece
- stronger and more durable connection between components

This structure increases the pipe's durability while giving it a refined, technical, and elegant aesthetic.

Chacom Morta Spigot Model 186

The Model 186 is a straight pipe within the Morta Spigot range, combining classic design with modern functionality.

Key features include:

- straight shape for a traditional smoking experience
- medium size, well balanced in hand
- generous bowl capacity, ideal for long smoking sessions
- cylindrical drilling for an even and controlled burn of tobacco
- 9 mm filter system for a smoother and cooler smoke
- acrylic mouthpiece, durable and elegant

The combination of bog oak, Spigot reinforcement, and a 9 mm filter makes this pipe both highly functional and exceptionally refined.
