L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro Pipe - Semi-Rusticated Bent Chubby Facet

The bent Chubby Facet by L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro is a pipe characterized by its wonderfully compact dimensions.

Pesaro: The Cradle of Italian Slow Smoking

The L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro brand, led by artisans Massimo Palazzi and Andrea Pascucci, is deeply rooted in Pesaro, a region that represents true excellence on the international pipe-making stage. The so-called "Pesaro school" is famous for having revolutionized briar design, introducing free-hand lines, harmonious proportions, and a masterful use of material contrasts.

Aesthetics and Geometry: The "Chubby Facet" Shape

This model expresses a strong geometric personality through short, robust proportions:

- Faceted Lines (Facet): The body of the pipe features a Chubby shape (short and stout) enhanced by a distinct faceted craftsmanship.
- Semi-Rusticated Finish with Polished Rim: The bowl is finished with a deep, uniform rustication. Creating a sophisticated contrast is the rim (the top of the bowl), which has been left completely flat, smooth, and highly polished to highlight the natural grain of the briar.
- Compactness and Portability: Thanks to its contained dimensions and well-balanced bent shape, it is a perfect "walking pipe," exceptionally comfortable to hold in the hand or slip into a pocket during your travels.

The Stem and the Signature Silver Detail

The stem area beautifully combines classic comfort with artisan jewelry:

- Saddle Configuration: The standard stem is crafted from polished black acrylic with an elegant saddle profile (saddle stem), which lightens the leverage of the pipe on the teeth and improves overall ergonomics.
- The Brand Icon: Adorning the stem is the famous miniature silver duck head—the official, unmistakable symbol certifying the authenticity and prestige of the Pesaro workshop's creations.

Chamber Geometry and Technical Performance

From a functional standpoint, the internal architecture ensures a simple, linear smoking experience:

- Cylindrical Bore: The combustion chamber boasts a regular, cylindrical bore (parallel bore), which is optimal for ensuring a uniform and consistent burn of the tobacco from the initial light down to the bottom of the bowl.
- Medium Capacity: The chamber volume is of medium capacity—the ideal size for enjoying a daily smoke or testing new blends without requiring excessively long smoking sessions.

This Bent Chubby Facet by L'Anatra is a robust, character-filled pipe with an unmistakable style. Its exceptional portability makes it the ideal companion for those who love to enjoy a smoke outdoors.
