The Big Ben Shepherd Nature Polish 472 is a bent rhodesian pipe defined by the elegant use of organic, natural materials. Built on shape 472, this curved model features a low, squatted bowl accented by traditional dual line grooves, shifting into a curved shank that provides an incredibly comfortable, well-balanced hold. The smooth finish belongs to the Shepherd series and features the 'Nature Polish' treatment—a clean, unstained surface that keeps the natural grain of the briar completely visible. The most distinctive feature of this piece is its real horn mouthpiece, which adds a unique, upscale look with its organic color variations. Performance-wise, the internal drilling and airway alignment are precisely centered, ensuring a clean, smooth, and unrestricted draft.
