Nicola Pirocco Pipe – Smooth Quarter Bent Chubby Tomato Interpretation

The Italian artisan pipe-making tradition is enriched by the creations of Nicola Pirocco, a pipemaker operating in Abruzzo who stands out for his ability to reinterpret classic shapes with a distinct personality. This specific pipe represents a personal, compact, and characterful take on the famous Tomato shape.

Structural Features and Design

The model showcases an original design based on a deliberately accentuated play on proportions:

- Chubby Geometry: The pipe features a subtle and intentional disproportion between the generous dimensions of the bowl and the short line of the shank. This characteristic gives the model a chubby, compact, and solid appearance.
- Quarter Bent Profile: The slight curvature offers a comfortable posture whether held in the hand or clenched between the teeth, perfectly balancing the weight of the bowl.
- Finish and Color: The briar is smoothly finished and treated with a dark staining*.*
- The Rim (Top Border): The rim of the bowl is finished with a flat top rim*, a choice that cleans up the upper line of the bowl.*
- The Extension / Accent (Oliva): The shank ends with a colored acrylic accent*, a chromatic detail that serves as a visual break between the dark bowl and the stem.*
- Cumberland Stem: Entirely hand-cut from rod stock*, the stem is crafted from cumberland—a premium material that ensures optimal comfort on the bite and a classic marbled aesthetic. It features a* fishtail shape and a standard tenon*.*
- Chamber with Conical Drilling at the Bottom: The tobacco chamber has a medium capacity*. The cylindrical drilling becomes* slightly conical at the bottom*.*
