Peder Jeppesen Ida Gr.4 Standup Freehand Quarter Bent Danish Handmade Pipe

Handcrafted by Peder Jeppesen, this pipe belongs to the Ida Gr.4 grading and represents contemporary Danish briar pipe craftsmanship. This example stands out for its freehand standup shape, characterized by organic lines and a visual balance that allows the pipe to stand upright when placed on a flat surface.

The smooth finish highlights the natural grain of the briar, while the upper rim of the bowl features a bark top finish that creates an appealing textural contrast with the polished surfaces of the stummel. The quarter bent configuration offers a comfortable grip and a pleasant weight distribution during use.

The generously sized bowl, drilled with a cylindrical chamber, is designed to hold a substantial amount of tobacco, promoting long smoking sessions and an even burn. Its overall proportions give the pipe a commanding presence.

The stem is crafted from black acrylic and fitted with a fishtail bit. Completing the design is a multicolored acrylic accent ring, adding a distinctive and contemporary touch to the pipe's profile.
