Valbruna Black Sandblasted Semi-Bent Bulldog Pipe - Artisan Simone Gaudenzi

This Valbruna black sandblasted semi-bent Bulldog pipe is a handmade Italian creation crafted by Simone Gaudenzi, master pipe maker from Gabicce Mare. The Valbruna brand is inspired by tradition and its local territory, referencing an ancient legend that has helped shape both the identity of the name and the brand's production philosophy.

The model represents an artisanal interpretation of the classic Bulldog shape, developed in medium proportions and reimagined with contemporary balance. The bowl features the characteristic controlled ridges of the Bulldog design, slightly forward-tilted, a detail that adds dynamism to the profile and improves the overall balance of the pipe.

The black sandblasted finish is executed with particular finesse: a delicate, silky sandblast that highlights the briar grain without appearing harsh to the eye or touch. The final effect is sober, technical, and well-defined, consistent with the essential aesthetic of the Bulldog shape.

The medium-to-small tobacco chamber is drilled with a slight taper toward the bottom, supporting a more even and controlled tobacco combustion.

The black ebonite stem, featuring a tapered profile and fishtail bit, ensures comfortable mouthfeel and a smooth transition with the shank, maintaining visual continuity with the dark finish of the pipe.

Overall, this Valbruna Bulldog pipe stands out for its formal sobriety and artisanal precision.
