Amorelli Handcrafted Pipe * | Penna di San Michele Series - Bent Egg Model

This handcrafted Amorelli pipe, classified with three stars (), belongs to the Penna di San Michele series, one of the most fascinating and technically complex lines born from Salvatore Amorelli's creativity in his Sicilian workshop.

The Innovation of the Penna di San Michele Series

The uniqueness of the Penna di San Michele line lies in the exclusive use of laser technology applied to briarwood. Breaking away from traditional craftsmanship patterns, Amorelli uses lasers to engrave a series of three-dimensional geometries and flawless grooves onto the wood's surface, recalling the light and symmetrical structure of a bird's feather.

This high-tech processing does not merely deliver a contemporary visual impact with a strong personality; it offers an immediate functional advantage: the precise laser engraving significantly increases the pipe's heat exchange surface area. The result is optimal heat dissipation.

Design and Features of the Bent Egg Model

The proposed model is an interpretation of the medium-sized Bent Egg shape.

- The Bowl and Drilling: The head features a good-capacity bowl, ideal for those who love to indulge in medium to long smokes. The drilling is cylindrical.
- The Original Two-Tone Stem: A striking element of aesthetic breakthrough is the two-tone, black and white acrylic stem. The stem is completed with a fishtail termination.

Every Amorelli pipe is a unique piece, certified by the unmistakable mustache-shaped gold insert on the shank.

The Penna di San Michele represents a prominent choice both for the collector seeking the exclusivity of an avant-garde design, and for the demanding smoker wishing to combine impeccable smoking performance with a one-of-a-kind aesthetic.
