Ser Jacopo L2 Pipe - Stand-Up Square Shank Bulldog

The Ser Jacopo L2 pipe represents an example of excellence from the renowned Pesaro school, entirely crafted in the workshop founded in Pesaro in 1982 by Giancarlo Guidi. Famous in pipe history for the celebrated motto "Per Aspera ad Astra" and for its ability to combine artistic flair and structural rigor, the Ser Jacopo brand stands out for its in-depth study of classic geometries and the quality of its materials, placing these creations among the most esteemed by international smokers and collectors.

Geometry, Shape, and Working of the Briar

The model is developed as a reinterpretation of the historic Bulldog shape, presented in a straight version with specific structural features. The structure of the shank is square-shaped.

The pipe is designed to ensure an autonomous stand-up posture: the base of the bowl is crafted with a stable resting surface that allows vertical positioning on smooth surfaces without the need for external supports.

The L2 classification identifies the smooth and natural finish.

Technical Specifications of Bowl and Stem

The pipe settles on medium dimensions, configuring itself as a versatile artifact regarding weight and general ergonomics.

- Bowl: Features a combustion chamber of medium capacity, optimal for standard smoking sessions. The internal drilling is executed with a slight taper at the bottom.
- Stem: Made of high-resistance glossy black acrylic, a material that maintains its shine over time without undergoing oxidation. The profile is conical with a standard button/lip. Inset on the top of the stem is the iconic silver "J", the distinctive symbol of the Pesaro brand.
