Pirocco Handmade Pot/Brandy Rusticated Pipe with Boxwood Ring

This Pirocco handmade pipe is crafted by hand in Abruzzo, Italy, by Nicola Pirocco, an Italian artisan renowned for his meticulous craftsmanship and attention to detail. Each pipe is produced using traditional briar-working techniques and is entirely finished by hand.

The model is a classic interpretation of the straight

Pot/Brandy shape, featuring compact, well-balanced proportions. The bowl is distinguished by a deep, evenly executed rustication. The smooth, gently rounded rim provides an attractive visual contrast with the rusticated surface.

The stem is made from hand-cut ebonite rod stock, a material valued for its quality, comfort, and long-lasting durability. Completing the design is an elegant boxwood accent ring, a handcrafted detail that enhances the transition between the shank and the stem while preserving the pipe's harmonious lines.

The bowl has a medium capacity and features a slightly conical chamber bottom.

Thanks to its compact dimensions and solid construction, this Pirocco pipe is particularly well suited for outdoor smoking, whether during a walk, a hike, or everyday moments of relaxation. Its combination of compact size, light weight, and comfortable ergonomics makes it easy to carry and enjoyable to use for medium-length smoking sessions.

A pipe that reflects the character of Italian artisanal craftsmanship, combining functionality, carefully selected materials, and an understated style designed to retain its appeal over time.
