The Ashton Brindle XX sandblasted Prince pipe is a fine example of refined British pipemaking. Sculpted into a sleek Straight Prince silhouette, it features a classic squat bowl paired with a graceful, elongated profile. The signature Brindle designation combines Ashton's proprietary oil-curing treatment—which expels moisture for a sweet, dry smoke—with a deeply carved sandblast finish that brings out the intricate briar grain. The pipe is fitted with a Cumberland mouthpiece, whose rich striated pattern complements the dark warm tones of the bowl. Graded as an XX size, it boasts ideal balance and a comfortable bit.
