L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro - Italian Semi-Bent Billiard

Italian handcrafted pipe by L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro, made in Pesaro, Marche. A medium-sized model in a semi-bent configuration that offers an artisan take on the proportions of the Billiard, one of the most recognizable classic shapes in pipe-making history.

The shape preserves the core elements of the Billiard while reinterpreting them through a freehand, personal build. The body features balanced proportions between the bowl, shank, and stem, with the semi-bent line smoothly accompanying the entire silhouette without altering its classic structure.

The briar features a bold, well-defined rustication that adds deep surface texture, giving the pipe a strong tactile presence. A notable detail is the smooth rim: the contrast between the rusticated body and the polished rim creates a clean transition that accents the top of the bowl.

The medium-capacity chamber is cylindrically drilled with a clean, traditional geometry. The chamber is well-proportioned relative to the overall scale of the piece, integrating seamlessly into the shape's structure.

The black acrylic saddle stem terminates in a fishtail bit. The uniform black acrylic offers an essential contrast to the rusticated briar, while the saddle design keeps the stem looking visually light relative to the pipe's body.

Overall, this is an artisan interpretation of the Billiard combining a classic structure with a more tactile, contemporary finish. The deep rustication, smooth bowl rim, black acrylic stem, and semi-bent orientation come together to form a cohesive piece engineered primarily as a functional smoking tool.

An Italian pipe with a traditional layout and a distinct artisan identity, defined by its detailed surface work and balanced proportions.
