Italian artisan pipe L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro 1 Uovo | Freehand Egg Standup

Handmade pipe L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro - 1 Uovo

This handmade pipe was crafted in Italy by L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro, an Italian workshop renowned for producing pipes characterized by freehand shapes and a strong focus on artisan craftsmanship. Graded as 1 Uovo (1 Egg), it features a medium-sized freehand silhouette with a smooth bent profile and balanced proportions.

The Egg bowl—the defining element of this shape—is enhanced by a smooth finish that brings out its soft, rounded contours. The shank integrates a subtle built-in pedestal base, designed to allow the pipe to stand upright stably when rested on a flat surface.

The generous-capacity chamber is crafted with a standard cylindrical drilling.

The mouthpiece is made of black acrylic and features a saddle-bit design with a slightly fishtail lip profile. Set into the top of the stem is a small silver duck head, the trademark emblem of the workshop that adds a refined decorative accent in contrast with the polished black acrylic.

Overall, this L'Anatra dalle Uova d'Oro 1 Uovo presents a compact and harmonious interpretation of the freehand style, where the Egg bowl, bent lines, stand-up pedestal, and signature stem details join together to create a pipe with a distinct, recognizable personality.
