The Talamona Revolution Onyx Pot pipe bridges modern functional design with the vibrant artistic flair of artisan Paolo Croci. Shaped into a classic straight Pot profile, it features a low squat cylindrical bowl with thick briar walls and a wide chamber, engineered for a cool, steady, and even burn. The crystalline smooth finish showcases the warm natural briar grain, while the shank is drilled to accommodate a 9mm filter system (or can be smoked without using an adapter) for an exceptionally dry, smooth smoke. Providing a bold visual highlight is the straight colorful marbled acrylic stem, whose striking swirled patterns inject a fresh, contemporary personality into a timeless silhouette. A versatile, robust, and stylish pipe made for everyday enjoyment.
