The Sauro Panel pipe is a refined artisan creation combining geometric precision with organic natural materials. Carved into a bent Panel shape, it features clearly defined faceted sides covered in a smooth natural finish that highlights the underlying briar grain. Extending the sweeping architecture of the pipe is an extension shank crafted from black bamboo featuring two distinct nodes, offering a striking visual contrast against the pale briar bowl. Completing this unique composition is a bent cumberland mouthpiece, whose subtle striations harmoniously balance the dark bamboo and natural wood tones.
