The Bisonte by Michele Pascolini Nautilus pipe is a highly sculptural artisan piece crafted in Italy. Inspired by the organic spiral architecture of the sea shell, its bent Nautilus shape features fluid, sweeping lines designed for ergonomic handling. The briar bowl is finished in a deep sandblast that brings the natural grain growth into sharp tactile relief. Elevating the shank junction is an elegant natural horn insert, offering a warm organic contrast before seamlessly connecting to the bent cumberland mouthpiece with its subtle reddish-brown striations.
