Dunhill The White Spot Shell Briar 5134 (2025): The Timeless Elegance of the Brandy Shape

The Dunhill The White Spot Shell Briar 5134, manufactured in 2025, is a refined testament to the centuries-old craftsmanship of the English pipe-making tradition. This model interprets the classic Brandy shape, combining it with the renowned Shell Briar finish — the historic sandblasting technique introduced by Alfred Dunhill in 1917, which helped shape the history of modern pipe making.

Technical Specifications and Construction Features

- Brand: Dunhill The White Spot
- Year of Production: 2025
- Model Code: 5134 (Group 5 – medium-sized pipe with generous tobacco capacity)
- Shape: Brandy (straight)
- Finish: Shell Briar (fine, raised sandblasted texture)
- Bowl: Generously sized, with a precisely drilled cylindrical chamber
- Stem: Tapered, made of black vulcanite, featuring the iconic White Spot on the upper side
- Configuration: Straight

Shape Geometry and Smoking Performance

The 5134 features medium-sized proportions, distinguished by a bowl with the characteristic bulbous silhouette of the Brandy shape, gently narrowing towards the chamber opening. This distinctive combustion chamber geometry promotes even tobacco heating and helps concentrate the aromas towards the top.

The generously sized bowl benefits from expertly executed cylindrical drilling, ensuring a consistent, smooth draw with minimal turbulence, from the initial light all the way down to the bottom of the tobacco chamber.

Shell Briar Finish and Stem Details

The fine sandblasted finish highlights the underlying briar grain without altering the pipe's overall contours, creating a pleasantly textured surface that feels tactile to the touch and effectively dissipates the heat generated during smoking.

The straight shank accommodates a tapered stem made of high-quality black vulcanite, hand-finished to ensure a comfortable bite. The unmistakable White Spot stands out on the upper side of the stem, completing the pipe's iconic appearance.
